Dear Parents and Carers,

As half term approaches I would like to congratulate all our families and staff for your flexibility and support in dealing with very unusual and often stressful circumstances so far this term.

I appreciate that no two family circumstances are the same and this has made planning blended learning even more challenging.

Next week no learning will be set to give everyone a chance to recharge physical, mental and emotional batteries and hopefully take in some well-deserved sea air and maybe even some sunshine.

As you know the Prime Minister is due to announce his next plans later on this month, as a school we have to plan according to this, but as a staff we hope to be back to a whole school community as soon as possible.

Thank you to everyone who completed the Google Survey on Remote Learning. Feedback was overwhelmingly positive with 81% of parents feeling that work and feedback have been the right amount.

As soon as we know what the next half term entails for us all I will let you know at the earliest opportunity.

I hope you all manage to have a restful week and thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

Julie Elvy
